

Make your own birch-bark canoe!!

designed by Dwayne James

1. Cut out both designs along the dotted lines.
2. To start folding the canoe, orient the paper so that the design faces up and the ribs are vertical.
3. Turn paper over, fold it in half, crease, and unfold.
4. Fold top and bottom edges to the crease made in previous step.
5. Fold the gunwales in half along the dark line so that one half of each gunnel folds over the bark on the flip side.
6. Fold in half along the crease made in step 3.
7. Turn the folded paper so that the side without the canoe logo is facing up.
8. Fold up the corners so that they tuck under the folded gunwales, and the logo appears on the bow.
9. Open up the canoe and shape it into form.
10. Now, for the stand. With text facing down, fold the paper in half.
11. With text facing up, fold paper in half again.
12. On both sides, fold paper back along dotted line.
13. Crease all folds, and then let paper naturally spread so that it lies on the table with text facing up.
14. Place the stern of the canoe in the creased fold, and display proudly.
